master at Washington, South Caroline, who buried his money, which, in this case, hap-pened to be in gold, and only brought it forth after the war had closed. He prompty forwarded the amount to the Department, and was allowed the premium on the coin, as the law provides for returns to be made in legal-tender United States money .- National Intelligencer. SCOTCHED, BUT NOT KILLED .- The viper, secession, has been scotched, but not killed Whoever believes that the Southern mind is sadly mistaken, and may one day be awakened to a consciousness of the delusion .-Henry A. Wise, in a recent lecture at Norfolk, gave utterance to the following sentiment. and we doubt not he met with warm ap-"These oaths are not necessary, and cannot accomplish any good result. They but | the 27th. promote perjury, hypocrisy, and general demoralization; and as being the condition precedent of even making an application for pardon, they are an absurdity and a crime. A man must swear, not before he is pardoned, but before he can ever ask to be pardoned. In the kingdom of grace, who ever heard of such a monstrosity? And pardon! For what to be pardoned? For himself he could ask no pardon, for the reason that he had com-mitted no offence for which to be pardoned. The thuse who had the right to command. It was not for him to decide whether there was good of blood, and duty demanded that he should obey that call."

We call the attention of Judge Underwood to this treasonable atterance of Wise, and it may be hoped that he will be indicted and tried along with Davis. The impudent traitor should not be permitted to strut about unwhipped of justice. If he were convicted of treason, and under sentance of death for would sue for parden on his knees, if required to do so. At any rate he should be put to the proof. - Washington Chronicle.

SOUTHERN CITIZENS IN MEXICO.-A letter from Mexico of the 10th uit., says: schemes failed, and finally he came to Mexico in order to earn an honorable subsistence as correspondent. The loss of his trunk while on his way to this city was severely felt by him, and within a few weeks he has been very ill with the prevailing diseases in this city. He is striving manfully to retrieve his fallen fortunes, takes no part in Mexican | tillery of its own. politics, and has secured the confidence and good will of all his countrymen.

General Magruder continues to edit the Mexican Times, and evinces much antitude in his new profession. General Magruder Lorica by assirult. and Colonel Blake are the only Confederate field officers at present in the capital."

THE SOUTHERN HOMESTEAD LAW,-The new homestead law for the Southern States is a measure which is destined to attract much attention in that quarter of the Union. It applies to the States of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Louisiana, and Mississippi. The bill gives the public lands in these States to actual settlers, including the newho participated in the rebellion until 1867, when they may come in for a share.

The following is the amount of these pub-ple homestead for every negro in the South; and if it were all in one body it would be desirable to appropriate it all to that class. There is an abundance of public land in the settle, in lots of 160 acres, and it were well to have the two races as much separated as possible, since it seems there can be no peace between them. But after the first day of January next there will be no further restraint upon the whites, and with more ample means and intelligence they will probably appropriate the greater part of these lands. The negroes are too poor to set up as independent tillers of the soil. To do so they must have the means of building houses, of buying agricultural implements, cattle, &c ... and necessaries for the first year. This capital not one in a hundred will be able to raise. and the result will be that the homesteads offered them by Congress will be of no service, for the present, at least .- Washington
